

Consent form / Privacy Notice: Photography / filming

Consent

I consent to Eastern Inshore and Conservation Authority using photographs and/or video recordings including images of me for promotional purposes. Such images may contain other contextual information (such as the Port Letter Numbers of your vessel or the location of the image). These images could be used in print and digital media formats including print publications, websites, posters, banners, advertising, film, social media, teaching and research purposes.

I understand that images on websites can be viewed throughout the world and not just in the United Kingdom and that some overseas countries may not provide the same level of protection to the rights of individuals as EU/UK legislation provides.

I understand that some images or recordings may be kept permanently once they are published, for example, in an Annual Report.

I have read and understood the conditions and consent to my images being used as described.

Privacy notice

Who we are

For the purposes of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR, (EU) 2016/69) Eastern Inshore Fisheries and Conservation Authority are a data controller meaning we are responsible for, and control the processing of, your personal information.

Lawful basis for processing

The lawful basis under which this data is processed is consent.

What information will be processed

Eastern IFCA will process the following information:

- Full name
- Photograph / video
- Other contextual information contained in the photograph.

How we will use the information we collect

Eastern IFCA will only use images for promotional purposes as described in this consent form.

Retention

Your personal data (the images and your name and signature) will be retained for 2 years at which point it will be deleted. Any images used in publications will not be deleted and may be available indefinitely.

Your Rights

Under certain circumstances, the law grants you specific rights. These are summarised below. Please note that your rights may be limited and subject to restrictions in certain situations:

- Request access to your personal information (commonly known as a “data subject access request”). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal information we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.
- Request correction of the personal information that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate information we hold about you corrected.
- Request erasure of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal information where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal information where you have exercised your right to object to processing (see below).
- Object to processing of your personal information where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground. You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal information for direct marketing purposes.

- Request the restriction of processing of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of personal information about you, for example if you want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it.
- Request the transfer of your personal information to another party (also known as data portability).

If you want to review, verify, correct or request erasure of your personal information, object to the processing of your personal data, or request that we transfer a copy of your personal information to another party, please contact the Data Protection Officer (details below).

You also have the right to make a complaint to the Information Commissioners Office relating to the processing of your data. Further explanation of these rights can be found at the Information Commissioners Office website: <https://ico.org.uk>

Contacting us

You may want to contact us with a complaint or query about how your data is being used or to submit an access request. Any complaints are taken very seriously, and we encourage people to bring it to our attention if they believe our collection or use of information is unfair or inappropriate. Please contact us at your convenience using the details provided below.
